Under no circumstance does Digital Profit create a brokerage account for you, receive, manage or trade any money for you or on your behalf. Trading contains substantial risk and is not for every individual or even an investor. You could potentially lose all or more than the initial investment you place into a brokerage account. Risk capital is money that can be lost without jeopardizing financial security or lifestyle. You as the member or investor should only use risk capital for trading. Any past performance is no guarantee or indicative of future results. Cftc rule 4.41 – hypothetical or simulated performance results have certain limitations. Unlike an actual performance record, simulated results do not represent actual trading. Also, since the trades have not been executed, the results may have under-or-over compensated for the impact, if any, of certain market factors, such as lack of liquidity. Simulated trading programs in general are also subject to the fact that they are designed with the benefit of hindsight. No representation is being made that any account will or is likely to achieve profit or losses similar to those shown.
